OLYMPIC APPRAISAL

On Sunday June 10th, the final day of the Olympic Equestrian Games at Stockholm, your editor attended the annual Potomac Hunt Horse Show near Washington, D. C. As usual it was a good show with a cross country background, good horses and riders and a fine pack of hounds paraded in the ring. And yet, in spite of the excellent coverage given the Olympics in the Washington newspapers during the preceding week, comparatively few of those most active in the show had been following the events in Stockholm. They were not aware that, although coached by our principal dressage representative, the United States Team had failed miserably in that phase of the Three Day Event, that our horses and riders were overmatched by the course and by the going in the Cross Country phase. Neither did many of them know the placings of Major Borg and Shirley Watt in the Grand Prix de Dressage or that the Prix des Nations was being contested that day. Everyone was interested to hear the news, but few had been interested enough to follow it in the sport section of the newspaper.

This apathy is not too difficult to explain. We have no appreciable number of Three Day Events in this country—the U. S. Equestrian Team, Inc. is not even sponsoring one in 1956—nor do we have more than a handful of dressage classes. The number of shows with jumping courses of international type is equally few, even the official F.E.I. events at the National and at the Pennsylvania National are held indoors in arenas too small to enable the setting-up of true International courses. Not only are we thus deprived of the contests which are the essential training and testing grounds for producing top horses and riders, but, since the enthusiasm of Americans is almost completely confined to those sports in which they themselves participate, we are deprived of public interest and support as well.

As long as our Equestrian Team was the province of the Cavalry all this made little difference. Since the Team became a civilian responsibility we have relied on a few riders and horses of exceptional natural ability which have endeavored to attain Olympic standards with the help of brilliant coaching. Col. Wofford coached the 1952 team to Bronze Medals in both Three Day and Prix des Nations events at Helsinki, just as this year Anatole Pieregorski coached the Canadian Three Day team to the Bronze Medal at Stockholm and Captain de Nemethy coached our Prix des Nations team to a creditable fifth place.

But the fact remains that Gold Medal winners can only be uncovered and developed through competition in many, many events of Olympic calibre. During the last ten years England has followed exactly this course, has organized the events, has developed the horses and riders and has achieved Gold Medals in the Prix des Nations in 1952 and in the Three Day Event in 1956. By way of contrast Russia, whose team (like ours) lacks such events at home and has not competed abroad, has made a comparatively poor Olympic showing.

Now is the time to plan for 1960. It seems obvious that a series of Olympic type events in which horses and riders can gain experience and in which the public can acquire an interest should be first on the list.

Ladies and Gentlemen

To honor him who serves you well
In sport, in work, in pleasure
A toast we raise, in silent praise
And drink a goodly measure.

To him with spirit, strength and will
Of clean-limbed, blooded beauty
We pledge this toast, do value most
His eagerness in duty.

We can't expect he'll always win
When challenged to the test
But give him head — enough is said!
He'll surely do his best.

So lift your glass and . . . bottoms up!
Just watch him take the course.
He will come through, may win that 'blue'
A Thoroughbred, your horse!

British Racing

Dear Sir:

The general picture of British Racing could scarcely be grimmer. Of the only two high class four-year-olds in this country, Nucleus has died of a tumour on the brain and Acropolis has had a severe training setback. Nucleus' death was a tragedy, but it explains the little temperamental quirks which marred his career. It was unfortunate that the only bad race he ran last year was in the Laurel Park International, but he had a valid excuse that day for he was badly struck into. Now that Papa Fairway is with you and Royal Palm, Vilmoray and Princely Gift have retired, we have no top older sprinters, but are building up again from the ranks of the three-year-olds. They will sort themselves out at the Royal Ascot meeting. At this fixture we shall also learn something about

REVIEW OF THE WEEK

The Inaugural Run Of The Stymie Handicap Won by Thinking Cap

Raleigh Burroughs

I have a desk with eight drawers, four down one side, a big one in the middle, and two small ones and one deep one down the other side.

This piece of furniture was bought nude — I mean the desk was — and with it I purchased a can of stain, some sandpaper, shellac and varnish.

Well, between getting out magazines and writing things for other magazines, I gave that piece of furniture a small part of my soul. When I was finished with it, you could run your hand over any part of it without picking up a splinter — hardly ever.

Everyone says it's a splendid job (for a do-it-yourself project).

When it was completed, I was very proud of it and decided that such a fine piece of furniture deserved better-than-ordinary treatment. I made up my mind to be neat about it. In one drawer I put stationery and supplies; in another letterheads and copy paper. A third was made a repository for "ideas". A fourth held "possible copy."

Photographic supplies just about filled up a sixth. The seventh was reserved for miscellaneous. In the last, I placed the manuscripts of the two books I have written, which no one will buy because they are pretty terrible. This is the deep drawer and it makes a comfy sepulchre.

I went along for weeks getting great satisfaction out of the fact that I was being neat with my desk, when one day I realized I was reaching into Drawer 7 for paper clips, which should have been in Drawer 5.

This disturbed me, but a check revealed that there were paper clips in Drawer 5 also. Then came the great light — I had the most remarkably organized desk in the world. Instead of having a separate category of contents for each of eight drawers, I had all eight categories in every drawer.

This always has happened to me with all my desks. When I make the discovery, I go to work and straighten up. No matter how careful I may be, though, after about three weeks, every drawer ends up "miscellaneous."

Seems I get a little untidy in my writing, too, so right now, I'd like to clear up a few boo-boos (that's what the TV people call them) and hope the word will get around to the people I have misled.

The worst one is the story I've been telling for years about Delaware Park. I've been saying that the mutuels take there is ten per cent, that the breakage is to the nickel and that at Delaware the racing fan gets the best deal obtainable anywhere.

Back in 1953, I was right on all three counts, but sometime between closing day in '53 and the opening afternoon of the last season, somebody sneaked over a change in breakage on me.

The take still is to the dime, and the player still gets the best deal in Del., but the breakage is to the dime.

So please go back over your file copies of The Chronicle and rub out "to the nickel" wherever it appears and substitute "to the dime."

I'll try to remember it, too.

Another error was one of omission: when I listed the Calumet fillies that had won the Black Eyed Susan (nee Pimlico Oaks) I forgot to mention Wistful.

And last week — oh, crying shame — I split an infinitive, wrenched the helpless little thing apart right in the middle and slipped away without giving aid and comfort.

Believe me, this hurt me more than it did you — even more than the typographical errors — because, untidy as I am, I always try to never split an infinitive.

ThistleDown

On the day Needles won the Belmont Stakes, seven other races finished in the homestretch that lies between the Long Island Railroad (one buck each way) and the Widener Course.

In one of these contests, known as Seventh Race, was a horse named Born Mighty. At the time, the nomenclature seemed fantastically inappropriate, but because of the company he keeps (he is a member of the C. V. Whitney team) Born Mighty was made the favorite. For six furlongs of the one-mile gallop he held down ninth place. In the last two furlongs he made up enough lengths so as to be beaten only 7½. He appeared to be flying at the end; but this was an optical illusion, because the early-speed horses were backing up all around him.

Had any visiting reporter observed, "It wouldn't surprise me to see Born Mighty win the Ohio Derby next Saturday, and beat Fabius and all," the custodian of the Belmont press box would have called Bellevue.

Fabius had just dropped a close decision to Needles and Career Boy — beaten 1½ lengths for top money — and looked as solid as A. T. & T., with the President in perfect health.

What happened at ThistleDown on Saturday, June 23, isn't likely to make Born Mighty the three-year-old champ, but it put $29,041 into Mr. Whitney's pocket.

The Whitney stable, incidentally, is having a funny year. With trainer Sylvester Veitch knocking himself out trying to win races with the "good" ones, Jazz Age, a maiden once removed, staggered the world by taking the Peter Pan.

On top of that, Born Mighty, with a maiden victory last year and a triumph in an allowance race in '56, has clipped the wings of the best Calumet Farm has to offer.

The Ohio Derby was run over a sloppy track, a thunderstorm horned in on the program not long before the big race went.

There was a great rush of horses to the first turn in the mile-and-one-eighth test, and Fabius suffered in the jam that resulted. He got clear in time to take the lead entering the far corner and seemed ready to draw away but, in the stretch, he weakened and Born Mighty came up to win by a length. Toby B. was third, beaten only a nose by Fabius. Time for the race was 1:55½. The record is 1:48.

Born Mighty (*Mahmoud—Little Saint, by *St. Germans) returned $34 for each $2 invested by those who are convinced that "the Whitneys are always trying" and bet that way.

John Choquette had the mount on Born Mighty.

Mr. Whitney bred the chestnut three-year-old.

Canadian Champ still is the champion of Canada, but he was ninth of nine in the field at Ohio. He was the second choice in the Derby.

Belmont Park

Few tracks seem to realize that the public like long races, but Belmont Park is one that does. A new male-and-a-half gallop had its inaugural on June 23. It is known as the Stymie Handicap and the distance was made twelve furlongs because Stymie would have liked it that way.

Fisherman was the high-weight of those that went and he ran his customary good race — this time it wasn't good enough. Thinking Cap, which doesn't care what the distance is so long as the track is sloppy, was the winner and the track wasn't sloppy. With the heat what it was, the perspiration cascading down his face made him think it was sloppy. Also, his modus operandi was different from his "traditional" style; he fought for the lead with Fisherman all the way. Shaking off the game little Whitney horse entering the stretch, he drew out to win by 3½ lengths. Begorra was third and Maharajah fourth.

Thinking Cap (Rosemont—Camargo, by *Heliopolis) paid $15.10 to two-dollar investors.

He was making his sixth start of the year and recording his third win. Twice he has been third. With the $19,100 from the Stymie, he has 1956 earnings of $26,420. Last season he earned $64,250. His two wins were in stakes, the Travers and Lawrence Realization.

Christiana Stable owns the four-year-old colt and also bred him.

Henry S. Clark is the trainer.

P. J. Bailey had the mount in the Stymie.

The Colin Handicap came into existence at Belmont on June 18. This is a six-furlong sprint and seemed a pretty good spot for Summer Tan. The Galbreath colt disappointed, though, turning in a rather dull race.

G. S. Colella's Switch On, which had not won since February, found this race to his liking and won in thrilling style over Jet Action and Dark Ruler. The winner's margin was a head, while Jet Action held second place by a nose. Mr. Turf was fourth 1½ lengths farther back.

Switch On, which took the Palm Beach and McLennan Handicaps at Hialeah, is a five-year-old gelding by Condiment—Tactic, by *Sickle. His price at the windows was $11 for $2.

The $16,650 he brought in from the Colin gives him a 1956 total of $109,225. With 8 wins in '55, he earned $43,612. R. Ussery was up for the Colin.

J. Nerud trains Switch On.

The gelding was bred by Mrs. J. M. Branham.

The colt division of the National Stallion Stakes was contested for on June 20. Ogden Phipps' Bureaucracy was the winner, defeating the odds-on Encore a length and three-quarters.

Gavel and Cohoes got the other two money positions in the order listed.

The race was worth $25,685 to Mr. Phipps, who also bred the winner.

Bureaucracy — by Polynesian, from Busanda, by War Admiral — was making his seventh start and racking up his second win. He has been second once and third once. His earnings add up to $29,515.

The National Stallion is at five furlongs and is for two-year-olds.

Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons trains for Mr. Phipps, and hoisted Sidney Cole into the saddle for this one.

Delaware Park

Calumet Farm's Miz Clementine outran eleven other females to drag down the winner's share of $28,050 in Delaware's New Castle. The five-year-old daughter of Bull Lea—Two Bob, by The Porter, raced into the lead in the first quarter and never was headed.

She took the decision by 2½ lengths over Searching, with Myrtle's Jet third and Manotick, fourth.

Parlo, the choice, finished last, after being caught in a tight spot.

Miz Clementine has 3 wins, a second and a third in 6 1956 starts. Her earnings total $39,200.

She put $63,400 toward Calumet solvency last year.

Jackie Westrope rode her in the New Castle.

Jimmy Jones, of course, trains Miz Clementine, and Calumet (Mrs. Gene Markey) bred her.

R. J. Van Horn's Ring O'Roses, P. Smithwick up, Wins In The Spring Maiden Steeplechase

The Scribe

June 11th

The Tom Roby Steeplechase: The gala atmosphere returned to the paddock at the attractive Delaware course when steeplechasing opened with an interesting field in the Tom Roby. There is but one standard size brush course here now, following the route of the old stakes course "out in the country", with the hunter course just to the outside of it. Caste was prominent from the start and looked the winner all the way. Also, Flaming Comet was right behind, running and jumping smoothly. The Proff ran well but could not better third place. Songai, reluctantly making his second start over fences, reared at the break, tried to make a run for it for a mile, and then sulked badly.

June 12th

Hunter Race: The favorite Fairshot left little doubt as to the outcome of the first hunter race here in five years. Nevertheless we cannot help wondering what would have happened if Best Gift had recovered when she stumbled on landing over the 6th. Arrius went very well, but home-bred Chambourg to the front. The big free-galloping son of *Rufigi fenced well and went on to win with Breakers Ahead closing steadily behind him to get second place ahead of Nassau Derby.

June 15th

The Georgetown Steeplechase Handicap: The big question seemed to be whether or not Neji could carry his impost of 169 lbs. If not, it looked as though Landscaping could bring home the bacon, but that was without taking into consideration the fine job Paddy Smithwick has done in developing and riding what might have been called an ordinary horse (although nicely bred) and turning him into a 'chaser of stakes caliber. No one works any harder or deserves more credit. It was Carafar that went to the front with Ring O'Roses dogging him, jumping faster than the somewhat sticky Carafar. Neji was not far behind, but noticeably ran far out in the middle of the course. Recovering nicely from a bobble at the Liverpool on the back side the second time around, Ring no extras were offered. On Tuesday, the 14th, hurdle horses went to the post. Antagonizer, coupled with Indian Fire, was made favorite although there was much talk in the paddock of the speed of Dafila, and Eternal Sun had run a good race in New York and looked well. In this case, the big field proved no problem once they got away for they were well strung out with Dafila going right to the front. The third hurdle is placed obliquely just about where the turn starts to straighten out; therefore the angle at which it is jumped can be important. It looked as though Dafila jumped well enough, but did not make allowance for the turn, for he fell on landing. Eternal Sun was right there to take over with Antagonizer following and the smooth going old Cottage Flame moving up with every stride to finally get second money.

June 20th

Brush Race: Flaming Comet recovered from a rough one at the first fence — from there on never made a mistake, running and jumping with beautiful precision and soon taking over the lead from the early pace setting Espantoon. Under constant pressure from Jockey Bob McDonald, But 'n Ben moved up from the ranks and made a swift move near the finish, but hung, and could not get to the winner. Crag was knocked side ways when he hit the Liverpool, but gamely went on to be fourth behind Swords Point, stablemate of the grand Flaming Comet.

June 21st

Hurdle Race: On paper it did not look like much of a race with a rather mediocre field. However, horses of the same class look good when they are running together. Mielaion and Eponbush duelled for the lead with Mielaion out jumping the other and getting to the front. This achievement was short lived for her. Hurst Park, who had been running fourth a few lengths back, jumped his way to the lead and went on to win decisively by five lengths. Knocks Twice had been running evenly and had moved into second position, a good effort after his two years' lay off. Phi Beta Kappa left the course ducking around the wing of the fifth hurdle.

June 22nd

The Spring Maiden: The second in the series of Spring Maiden chasers was made interesting by the improvement of Ring O'Roses and the possibility of Prince Regent. Corkage went to the front followed by Prince Regent and could not get to the winner. Flighty Eyes jumped cautiously, racing evenly throughout.

June 13th

Brush Race: It was fortunate, we think, that no one tried to stay with Chee Oaks as he sprinted away from the field of ten and flew over the first few fences. Glencannon, however, was in pursuit and for awhile they were both a fence ahead of the rest. After setting such a pace, Chee Oaks continued to hang on gamely, when Glencannon, the winner, went to the front. It was then that Glencannon seemed to become rank, but a fine strong ride (with the saddle slipping) from F. Schulhofer, he would certainly have jumped the water on his way to the finish.

June 14th

Hurdle Race: Cleverly slipping through on the inside after the rush and near trouble at the first hurdle, Apprentice W. Mason brought Gen. R. K. Mellon's O'Roses made his move, caught the fleet Carafar at the third from last, raced with him to the next fence and then went on to win by two and one half lengths. Neji saved the show money for his many backers who had created a minus pool in the betting (costing the track better than $6,000). The beaten Landscaping had fallen at the last fence.

Royalton Hunt Race Meeting

H. S. Nichols' Ginny Bug Wins Feature Race Timber Race Goes To Burford Danner's Jamaica Boy

Campbell Brown

If the management of the ninth annual Royalton Steeplechase Meeting had been clairvoyant, they would probably have named their occasion Danner Day; then again, they probably wouldn't have, for Burford Danner is an important part of the management, and a not immodest man, to boot.

However, it started out being Danner Day with the first race on the card. This was The Hopeful, a two-furlong event for members' children who had not reached their 18th birthday. Here, with five other entries, some older than himself, was Mr. "Beau" Danner, aged 12, with his father's Lorbeau, veteran of some six years back, in the fields at Nashville, Louisville, Peoria and home. It was the first start of his life for Beau, however.

He got Lorbeau out of there and in front with no trouble at all, ahead of Jock Fortune, with Short Snort, Dave Ransburg with The Saint, and Sandy Warren with Patches. Other also-rans were Texas and Vickie.

Second race on the card was one of the unsanctioned turf races so frequent in the Royalton card. This, however, developed into a match race between Hi-Lo Boy, under Dale Baird and a bay mare named, for some reason, King, under Danny Evans. Dale brought his horse in decidedly ahead, thus setting up the first of his three victories on the turf for the day. His second came in the Whitewater Plate, another unsanctioned turf event, at about six furlongs, with Head an' Tell; his third came in the sanctioned Eagle Valley, at about a mile.

For this there were five entries, all local riders and horses except Mr. Thomas Rankin with R. E. L. Wilson III's Hi Team. Baird, with Honest Injun, worked his way into the lead at about the half-mile mark, and was thereafter not headed. Hi Team, running second or third all the way, finally finished a length behind the leader, with Priambulator, under Henry Stone, two lengths back. Also-rans were General's Boy and Alombie.

This race, least attractive of the day's offerings, was raggedly run. A protest by Mr. Rankin was disallowed. The general opinion of spectators was that ignorance of the Rules of Racing and lack of condition in horses contributed greatly to the poor showing. It was run in worse than trotting-time—2:12.

They had another "Watkins Special" in the Royalton Card. It was named the John B. Stokeley Hunter Race, and was for teams of three riders on their hunters. As usual, the lady members started a minute ahead of their male teammates, and Announcer George Van Hagen did a good job keeping events sorted out in the minds of the customers, who may have been unable at times to see what they were looking at.

Winner in the ladies' section was Miss Anne Hines, of Nashville, with Judge Dalton's Fast Time, Mrs. Joan Morgenthau, of Birmingham, coming in a close second with Judge McConnaughey's Cumberland Dick. However, Mr. Burford Danner, with Magic Shift, came in well ahead of Mr. C. C. Adams with Local Corner, which had lost the course and been forced to do some retracing. This gave the race, or races, if you like, to the Danner team. A male member of each team fell during the running.

The secondary brush event of the meeting, the Irishman's Run, for non-winners of two races over brush, brought out only three entries. First over the first fence in the "about two miles" was Mr. Carter Wilkie Brown with his father's Stonebur, but the lead shortly passed to Pat Murphy with Harry M Rhett's Port Call, and there is stayed, even under the wire.

The other entry, Paul Serdar's Omaha Traveler, got a conservative ride from Mr. M. O. Buder, but was able to show his latent form when, five lengths back of Stonebur over the last fence, he put on a prodigious stretch run and was able to finish second by a neck.

In the Royalton Steeplechase, the classic event in the card, Harry Nichols' Ginny Bug tried out some new tactics which broke the dismal string of seconds and thirds the mare has racked up for the season, obviously gladdening the hearts of her owner, and of Trainer Dennis Murphy.

Breaking first from the flag and first over the first jump, she stayed there until the wire, bearing brief periods of ascendancy by Guilford Dudley, Jr.'s Heres Why, under Mr. Carter Brown, and C. W. Mussett's Rich Lark, under Mr. Howard Tilson. The latter showed himself a real threat until he fell over the ninth fence.

After that, it was between Ginny Bug and Heres Why, with the mare getting a length lead over the last fence, just after Heres Why had run at her for the last time, and increasing it to three to finish. Mr. Ned Bonnies, with his Local Run, ran a good race, but was outclassed to finish third. Mrs. C. C. Jelke's Big Breeze, under Mr. Buder, seemed never able to get going, and finished as many lengths behind the leaders as Needles was when he started his drive in the Belmont.

In repeating her 1954 and 1955 wins in the Royalton, Ginny Bug retired the challenge trophy to her owner's shelf. She also demonstrated that there are more ways of winning races than by lying behind the field for the better part of the circuit, then running over everybody to win, which sometimes doesn't happen. The more whimsical of her admirers insist that she figured all this out herself; this observer, however, suggests credit for a definite assist to jockey Pat Murphy.

Final event in the card was the Thomas F. Ruckelshau Memorial, at about three miles over timber. Appropriately enough, it was another triumph for the Danner clan.

Here, his Jamaica Boy went out under Mr. Austin Brown against Paul Butler's Lucky Ford, under Henry Helgesen, and the veteran Reynoldstown, under his owner, Mr. Thomas Rankin. It was a Ginny Bug operation, new style, all over again, except that there wasn't so much competition.

Jamaica Boy took a long lead over the first fence, which might have been shortened but probably never cancelled, until Lucky Ford fell at the second fence. Thereafter, there was an ever-increasing number of lengths between the leader and Reynoldstown, lately up from grass and a considerable shadow of his former self.

There was another challenge trophy retirement here, but it had taken two horses to do it. Winner of the first two legs had been the late Bit-Whip Comet, which had got his name on the cup in 1953 and 1954, before going to his death in the fall of that year. He still holds the course record for this race, established in 1953.

Leading trainer for the meeting was Dennis Murphy, who saddled Port Call, Ginny Bug and Jamaica Boy. Leading rider, for the record books at least, was Pat Murphy, with two wins, although local credit goes to Dale Baird for his three wins over turf, two of which were unsanctioned.

This is the final fall meeting for the Midwest Hunt Race circuit of 1956. The Arlington Park Hurdle Stakes will, of course, definitely wind up all Midwest festivities for the year.

TULYAR'S COLT

The great Tulyar is the sire of this imported colt out of the stakes winning mare China Bay—dam of three winners, including the stakes winner Royal Chancellor and the good Irish winner Beau Triomphe. The next dam produced the excellent stakes winner Victory Roll and the third was the famous stayer Cho-sen, dam of stakes winners.

NEARCO'S COLT

Ever-young Nearco has come up with another grand classic-looking colt in this one out of *Mieuxserene, dam of the stakes winners The Magistrate, Dark Minstrel, and Cheveley Beauty. She was half-sister to the crack race mare and producer Solar Flower, also dam of *Peter Flower, Solar Slipper, Arctic Sun (dam of Arctic Prince, winner of the Derby), etc.

PRINCE CHEVALIER'S COLT

Prince Chevalier won the French Derby, is sire of the English Derby winner Arctic Prince, and many other top horses. The dam of this colt is the good English stakes winner Riding Rays, by Nearco, and is out of the stakes winner and dam of stakes winners Infra Red, a daughter of famous Black Ray from whom we have gotten *Khaled, *Jacopo, etc.

News from the STUDS

*Beau Gem

*Beau Gem died at Kentmere Farm, Boyce, Virginia, June 23rd. Dr. Fritz Howard, who performed the post-mortem with a colleague, stated cause of death was severe peritonitis resulting from intestinal rupture by Calcified stomach stones, after only a day's illness.

An Australian import, classic winner and half-brother to *Royal Gem II, *Beau Gem's first crop raced here at two last year. They immediately made him leading Virginia two year old sire, and his Champagne Stakes-winning son, Beau Fond, was the highest Experimental Handicap-rated (117 lbs.) two year old by any sire not standing in Kentucky.

*Beau Gem was owned by a Syndicate composed of members on both coasts and in Kentucky. His death, fortunately after the successful completion of the 1956 breeding season, comes as a real loss to Eastern breeders. He is buried at Kentmere beside *Teddy.

Alight Successful Home-Bred

Alight (br. f. by Black Gang—Aletta, by Boss Hoss) owned and bred by Mrs. A. C. Randolph of Grafton, Upperville, Va. outsprinted her opposition and easily won the 4th race at Belmont Park on June 11. This filly is another of Mrs. Randolph's Black Gang home-breeds which have been racing very successfully this year. — M. T.

—KENTUCKY—

Maine Chance Yearlings

Mrs. Elizabeth N. Graham's Maine Chance Farm, Lexington, will offer at the Saratoga Yearling Sales three Mr. Busher colts; two sons of Jet Jewel; two Lord Boswell fillies; colts by Ace Admiral and Royal Blood; and daughters of *Aradan, Jet Flight and Knockdown.

The *Aradan filly is a half sister to Rose Jet, champion two-year-old filly of 1951.

Mighty Baker's Half Sister

John W. Greathouse, owner of Glencrest Farm, Midway, will sell at the Keeneland Summer Yearling Sales a half sister, by Johns Joy, to Mighty Baker, the Mighty Story colt who recently won the $10,000-added Governor's Handicap at Suffolk Downs for Joe Gavegnano. Mr. Greathouse sold Mighty Baker to Mr. Gavegnano for $10,000 at the 1954 auctions. The colt is a half brother to the 1954 Christiana Stakes victor Wreck Master.

Woodsacres Yearlings

E. D. Axton's Woodsacres Farm, Prospect, will sell at the Keeneland Summer Yearling Sales two colts and a filly by *Royal Gem II, and a son of Great Circle.

One of the *Royal Gem II colts is a full brother to Jerry's Gem, and the other is a half brother to the classy Contact. The son of Great Circle is a half brother to Bank Account and Doc Eggers.

Morancy-Curry Colts

F. E. Morancy and Jess Curry, operators of Buck Run Farm, Versailles, have consigned colts by Depth Charge, Education and Requested to the Keeneland Summer Yearling Sales.

The son of Education is a half brother to the Canadian stakes winner Wintag and to the stakes-placed Play Tag.

Another Half Sister to Fisherman

C. V. Whitney has at his Lexington farm a suckling half Sister, by Native Dancer, as well as a yearling half sister, by *Priam II, to Fisherman, The Phalanx horse who recently captured the $25,000-added John R. Macomber Memorial. The dam, Crawfish, who has also produced Faneuil Miss, was bred to Tom Fool.

Mayer's Yearlings

L. B. Mayer, who boards his breeding stock at Leslie Combs II's Spendthrift Farm, Lexington, will offer at the Keeneland Summer Yearling Sales colts by *Bernborough and *Royal Charger; and fillies by *Alibhai, *Shannon II and Spy Song.

The daughter of Spy Song is a half sister to Silverado and Miss Ardan. The *Shannon filly is out of the Australian stakes winner *Lady Ajax II. The son of *Royal Charger is from the classy Your Hostess.

Value of Patience

Jack D. Rogers, part-owner of Vine Hill Farm, Versailles, can testify to the value of patience in dealing with horses.

Back in 1950, he had a two-year-old who got a gravel imbedded in his hoof and had to be held out of competition. The next season the horse was just about ready to start when he was kicked in the knee. It took another two years for him to recover that time, and he never got to the races at all until he was five years old.

But Mr. Rogers had patience enough to wait on the gelding by Four Freedoms—Speak Low, by Halcyon. And the gelding, Speak Free, has rewarded that patience by winning 16 races and over $35,000, including the recent $5,000-added Flintstone Stakes by 10 lengths.

Riddle Estate's Yearlings

The Samuel D. Riddle Estate's portion of Faraway Farm, Lexington, will sell at the Keeneland Summer Yearling Sales two colts and a filly by War Admiral; sons of *Aradan, Blue Swords, Haltal, *Bernborough, Bimelech, Olympia, Page Boots and Roman.

One of the War Admiral colts is a half brother to Calvados and Symposium. The Roman filly is a half sister to Bradley, and the Page Boots filly is a half-sister to War Tryst. The son of *Aradan is out of the Fashion Stakes winner Caltha.

Grand Admirals Dead-Heat

Mary 'n' Lib and Golden Daze, a pair of two-year-old daughters of Grand Admiral, who stands at Mr. and Mrs. Howard Reineman's Crown Crest Farm, Lexington, recently achieved the unusual feat of dead-heating for first with each other at Belmont Park.

Mereworth Yearlings

Mrs. F. Warrington Gillet's Mereworth Farm, Lexington, has consigned to the Keeneland Summer Yearling Sales two Polynesian colts; a son and daughter of On Trust; colts by *Ambiorix, Greek Ship and Roman; and fillies by Bimelech, Blue Swords, Coaltown, Dante, Dark Star, *Daumier, Eight Thirty, Errard, Olympia, Ponder, Revoked, Tom Fool and War Relic.

The son of Roman is a full brother to Roman Bath. One of the Polynesian colts is a half brother to Woodchuck and Riant, and the other is a half brother to Mals Boy. The son of On Trust is a half brother to War Command and Royal Coinage, and the daughter of On Trust is a half sister to Bullish. The War Relic filly is a half sister to Fair Reaper, and the Tom Fool filly is a half sister to Tritium. The daughter of Dark Star is out of the San Gabriel Valley winner Cheboygan.

Bwamazon Yearlings

Millard Waldheim's Bwamazon Farm, Inc., Winchester, will offer at the Keeneland Summer Yearling Sales colts by Citation, Errard, *Nasrullah, Revoked and Sun Again; and fillies by Mr. Trouble, *Noor, Olympia and War Jeep.

The son of *Nasrullah is a half brother to Donnajack and Infusion; the son of Errard is a half brother to Judy-Rullah and to the stakes-placed Rae's Reward; and the son of Citation is a half brother to Jovial Jove and to the stakes-placed First Cabin. The daughter of Mr. Trouble is a half sister to Yes You and to the stakes-placed Thirty Love. The Sun Again colt is a half brother to the stakes-placed Breakers and Angle Dozer. The son of Revoked is from the stakes winner *Zante. The War Jeep colt is out of *Close-Reefed, who placed in the Irish Oaks.

Delman Estate's Filly

The Herman B. Delman Estate, which boards its horses at E. Barry Ryan's Normandy Farm, Lexington, will sell at the Keeneland Summer Yearling Sales a filly by Roman—How, winner of the Ladies Handicap, Kentucky and Coaching Club American Oaks, and $157,975.

—Frank Talmadge Phelps

Jazz Age's Half Brother

Leslie Combs II, owner of Spendthrift Farm, Lexington, has a suckling half brother, by *Alibhai, to Jazz Age, the *Priam II colt who recently surprised at odds of 599-20 in the $25,000-added Peter Pan Handicap. The dam, Jazz Baby, leased from Mr. Whitney, is again in foal to *Alibhai. The stakes-placed full sister to Daily Dip will return to Mr. Whitney's farm, about half a mile from Spendthrift, in the fall.

In return for leasing Jazz Baby to Mr. Combs, Mr. Whitney obtained a lease, also for the 1956 foaling season, on Dragana, full sister to Durazna. Dragana has a suckling filly by *Mahmoud, and will return to Spendthrift again in foal to that Whitney stallion.

Under the terms of this one-season trade, Mr. Combs will keep the half brother to Jazz Age; and Mr. Whitney will retain the 1956 filly by *Mahmoud —Dragana.

Double for Almahurst Stallions

A pair of three-year-olds by imported stallions standing at Henry H. Knight's Almahurst Farm, Lexington, won stakes on the first Saturday in June.

At Belmont Park, C. V. Whitney's colt Jazz Age, by *Priam II, surprised in the $25,000-added Peter Pan Handicap at odds of 599-20.

At Pimlico, Calumet Farm's filly Princess Turia, by *Helopolis, ran off with the $20,000-added Black-Eyed Susan Stakes at the minimum odds of 1-5, with her stablemate Beyond second.

Guillotine's First

The recent winner Cry Havoc is the first victor sired by Greentree Stud, Inc.'s $171,085 earner Guillotine, who stands at the Nuckols Brothers' Hurstland Farm, Midway.

Full brother to Bymeabond and Blue Border, Guillotine took the Belmont Futurity, Carter, Fall Hightweight and Lin-

The Clubhouse Turn

Two-Year-Old Winners From Keeneland Sales

Last year's Keeneland Summer Sales yearling is this year's two-year-old winner. Thoroughbreds acquired at the 1955 July auction conducted by the Breeders' Sales Company are making increasingly regular appearances in the winner's circle on every racing front. Some of these winners are: Mr. Sam S and Joe Price in California; Rapid Song, Asgard and Missile in New York, Nantua and Its A Gamble at Washington Park; Mr. Marcey, Orienne, Little Jr. and Sun Spots in New England; Jet Sub and All Speed at Churchill Downs; Eastbrook, Love Doll, Gambala and Jet Defense at Garden State, Churchill Downs, Gulfstream and Fair Grounds. The success of these two-year-olds serves to increase interest in the yearlings to be offered at Keeneland at the 1956 Summer Sales.

Birds of a Feather

The Maryland Jockey Club was re-organized in 1830 by charter which is now kept in the Library of Congress. Treasurer of the old Pimlico group was listed as B. I. Cohen, while the present treasurer of Pimlico and the M.J.C. is named Ben Cohen.

Americans at Epsom

Americans present at Epsom Downs to witness the Derby were C. V. Whitney, John W. Hanes, Alfred G. Vanderbilt, Robert J. Kleberg, Eugene Mori, John D. Schapiro and Daniel G. Kelly.

Delaware Steeplechasing

Charles Hatton in The Morning Telegraph observes that, even though the NSHA can produce statistics to show that steeplechasing is on the whole more formful than flat racing and would therefore be more gratifying to bettors, so many of those who wager on the flat races sit out the 'chases that each race over brush reduces the day's handle by $60,000 to $70,000. Even so, Delaware Park believes steeplechasing should be fostered and runs that calculated risk.

Montgomery Win

Mrs. Ian S. Montgomery's filly, Peignoir, under Eddie Arcaro's masterful guidance, ran in front the whole way to capture the Chappaqua Purse at Belmont Park in sparkling style. Eddie rode at 111 pounds, the first time for many years that he has made so low a weight.

Longchamps Centennial

Longchamps (Paris, France) will observe its 100th anniversary as a racing center next year with an international race with horses from all parts of Europe and some from America. It will not be strange territory to some Americans, having been a Red Cross center in World War I and an Army rotation post in the recent war.

Calumet Farm

If racing's fabulous Calumet Farm continues on to become the nation's leading money-winning stable of 1956, the records will reflect that the trip to the top began in Pimlico's $100,000 Preakness in May.

When Fabius, one of the first sons of Calumet's most brilliant horse—Citation—won the $84,250 first prize in the 80th Preakness it boosted his stable from second to first in the national standings by a margin of $28,225.

As if to cinch Calumet's declaration of bidding again for the title, the stable closed the Pimlico meeting on June 2 with its Princess Turia and Beyond running 1-2 in the Black Eyed Susan Stakes. This victory pushed them comfortably over the $450,000 mark with six months of running still on the calendar.

It also made them the leading stable at Pimlico's spring meeting with a total of $104,750 won there in just 23 days.

Vanderbilt Colors

Mrs. John Payson Adams, the former Murial Vanderbilt, who recently acquired the old Vanderbilt Farm at Portsmouth, R. I. has moved her breeding and racing activities from the Pacific Coast to the East and for the first time the famous solid white with black armbands racing silks, which she inherited from her grandfather and later her father, will be carried at the Narragansett Park meeting which opened June 25th. Her trainer, Charlie Shaw, will bring in ten head of the Adams' racing stock from Belmont Park and Desmond Flynn, now manager of the Portsmouth Farm, will add a pair of thoroughbreds that have been conditioned at the new headquarters. Mrs. Adams will spend the Summer in Rhode Island and will be a frequent visitor to Narragansett Park.

Sunshine Park Sold

Sunshine Park, only race track on the west coast of Florida, last week was sold to a group headed by Frederick E. M. Ballon, a New York attorney and director and treasurer of Yonkers Raceway, a trotting track in New York. Ballon said Sunshine would continue as a Thoroughbred track. "We have no intention to employ Sunshine for anything other than Thoroughbreds," he said.

The track was sold by Samuel C. Lombardo and John G. Masoni, both of Cleveland. Neither the buyer nor the sellers would comment on the purchase price.

Colorado Horseman

Bruce Sullivan, Colorado Thoroughbred enthusiast, and identified with the development of top animals for a number of years, recently spent some time in Texas, and is reported to have taken options on some young stock there. Sullivan, always anxious for representation at Centennial Race Track, Littleton, Colorado, might yet field a horse or two during the coming meeting. While in the Lone Star State, the Denver man visited Bud Burmester, Fort Worth, and the latter plans to be on hand during the opening of Centennial. Burmester reports much interest in Texas in the Littleton, Colorado meeting, and also that Charles J. McLennan's appointment as an official for the current meeting is extremely pleasing to Texas horsemen, who recall McLennan from early days at Arlington Downs.

Winner for Clark in England

Robert S. Clark has another winner in Britain when the three-year-old filly Gentle Touch took the one mile Trotwood Stakes at Yarmouth by three-quarters of a length.

Hitting the front two furlongs out, the daughter of Krakatau stayed on gamely under the strong urging of Jockey Frankie Durr, who has been doing so well this season and now rides as first jockey to Mr. Clark.

This was the first success attained by Gentle Touch, who was bred by her owner out of Mahmoud's daughter Mary Phyllis. —P.T.C.

Another Success for Fred Astaire

Fred Astaire certainly secured a bargain when he bought the filly Rainbow Tie, for the two-year-old daughter of Tudor Minstrel recorded her third victory on June 9 at Yarmouth when she took the Gorleston Pavilion Plate under top weight of 129 lbs. from thirteen opponents. Favourite at 7-4, she made practically all the running to score by three-quarters of a length from Crevasse, a son of Arctic Prince.

Rainbow Tie has been placed on the two other occasions that she has run and is trained by Harry Wragg at Newmarket. —P.T.C.

Daughter of *Dodoma

After winning the Epsom Derby, Coronation Cup and the Oaks, French hopes ran high that H. H. Aga Khan's beautiful juvenile filly Nanavati would take the 6,500 dollar Acorn Stakes at Epsom.

But the chestnut daughter of *Dodoma found one just too good for her in the Abernant filly Welsh Way, who defeated her by three-quarters of a length.

*Dodoma, it will be remembered, was bought by Mare's Nest Stud at last year's Keeneland Fall Sales for 25,000 dollars. —P.T.C.

Monmouth's Turf

Monmouth Park's turf course has been completely renovated for the stepped up hurdle and turf racing program of the 50-day meeting.

Two highlights of this program will be the running of the Longfellow Handicap on the turf and the Midsummer Hurdle Handicap, also on the grass but over hurdles as well. It is the richest hurdle event in the world with a prize of $22,000.

Seeding and cultivation of Monmouth's new seven eighths of a mile infield course was done under the supervision of Everett Wilson, track superintendent in consultation with agronomists from Rutgers University and after thorough inspections of other turf courses.

Durability with relation to climate and location was a major factor considered when planting the new turf. A constant program of fertilization and top seeding has been followed to insure the required racing surface and cushion, necessary for the grass and hurdle horses which will compete over it. It is planned to maintain the grass at a height of six to eight inches, depending on the seasonal rainfall.

Schulhofer Returns

Evan Shipman in The Morning Telegraph writes: "All of us appreciative of good riding over the jumps are delighted that Flint (Scotty) Schulhofer is back in trim again, this excellent steeplechase jockey having spent many weary months on the sideline because of an injury to arm and collarbone. The fall last summer that was the cause of Schulhofer's absence from the saddle did not appear serious, but you can never tell about a spill and this one gave rise to all kinds of trouble. It was feared for the boy that the months encased in a cast might permanently weaken his arm, but Schulhofer, a good patient, followed Dr. Alexander Kaye's instructions to the letter, taking constant exercises to maintain his grip. Last week saw his return to competition, his many friends delighted that his form was as assured as ever, nor did he tarry long in visiting the winner's circle. Belonging to a fine group of young professionals, Schulhofer knows no superior as a steeplechase jockey, combining sense of pace and judgment of race tactics with great boldness of execution. Not only for his sake, but for our own, we welcome his return to action."

Tulyar's Flight

A. B. Hancock, Jr. flies to Ireland on July 11 to inspect Tulyar and to complete arrangements to fly the stallion to his stud in July 15. Tulyar was bought from the Irish government for $740,000 by Hancock, Ogden Phipps, Howell Jackson, Mrs. H. C. Phipps, John H. Phipps and Warner Jones. However, the purchasers receive the profit from his stud services in Ireland this season.

coln's Birthday Handicaps. He finished worse than second in only a third of his 30 starts.

He experienced some fertility difficulties during his first stud season, and so his initial crop consists of only five registered foals.

Hurstland Yearlings

The Nuckols Brothers' Hurstland Farm, Midway, has consigned to the Keeneland Summer Yearling Sales two colts and a filly by Be Fleet; a son and daughter of Revoked; colts by Alsab, *Ambiorix, Better Self, Dark Star, Devil Diver, Guillotine, Hill Prince, One Hitter and Spartan Valor; and fillies by My Request and Sun Again.

King Ranch's DOTTED LINE (#3) noses out Mrs. V. G. Cardy's LEVEE in THE OAKS, at Delaware Park. The 3-year-old chestnut filly is a King Ranch home-bred by *Princequillo—Inscribe, by Brazado.

A full sister to White Skies is the daughter of Sun Again. One of the Be Fleet colts is a half brother to Lextown; the other is a half brother to the stakes-class Putney and Midway Sun. The son of One Hitter is a half brother to the stakes-placed Cherry Fizz.

"Four for Four"

Edgar Zantker, owner of Swanside Farm, Lexington, has gone "four for four," as the baseball statisticians say, with his brood mares in stakes production. His four mares with foals old enough to race are Dou Douia, dam of Quiz Show; Grand Flame, dam of Grand Admiral; Jane F., dam of Agrarian-U; and Short Supply, dam of the recent Fashion stakes winner Miss Blue Jay.

Mr. Zantker, who leased Miss Blue Jay to Mrs. Adele Rutchick after he tried vainly for several months to sell the Double Jay filly, has a yearling half brother, by Apache, and a suckling half sister, by Easy Mon, to her.

Elmendorf Yearlings

Max H. Gluck's Elmendorf Farm, Lexington, will sell at the Keeneland Summer Yearling Sales two Phalanx colts; sons of Hill Prince and Pink Flower; and fillies by Alsab, *Cortil and Menow.

The Hill Prince colt is a half brother to the $157,435 earner Quiet Step. The daughter of Menow is out of the classy Danger Ahead; the Alsab miss is from the high-class Discreet; and one of the sons of Phalanx is out of *Nuit de Folies, winner of the Prix de Minerve in France.

Spendthrift Yearlings

Leslie Combs II, owner of Spendthrift Farm, Lexington, and his son, Leslie B. Combs II, have consigned to the Keeneland Summer Yearling Sales two colts and two fillies by *Royal Charger; two sons of Mr. Busher; a colt and filly by both *Arday and Requested; sons of *Alibhai, Count Fleet, Crafty Admiral, *Djeddah, Eight Thirty, Jet Pilot, *Mahmoud, *Nasrullah, Owen Tudor, Polynesian and War Admiral; and daughters of Billings, Bolero, Citation, Hill Prince and Provocative.

One of the sons of *Royal Charger is a half brother to Noorsaga, out of the stakes mare Sequence; the other is a half brother to the stakes-placed War and Peace; and one of the *Royal Charger fillies is a half sister to the stakes-placed Dead Duck, out of the high-class Letmenow. The *Mahmoud colt is a half brother to Pail of Water, from the classy mare Up the Hill. The son of Requested is a half brother to Real Brother, and the daughter of Requested is out of the stakes-placed mare Marshy Dell. The Billings filly is a half sister to Landsear. One of the Mr. Busher colts is a half brother to the stakes-placed Reigh Belle and Count Lahey, and to the stakes producer Hasty Bet. The son of *Arday is a half brother to the stakes-placed Fizzle Blue, and the daughter of *Arday is a half sister to the stakes-placed Prize Ring. The Hill Prince miss is from the French stakes winner *Cuadrilla.

Manchester Yearlings

Duval A. Headley, owner of Manchester Farm, Lexington, will offer at the Keeneland Summer Yearling Sales colts by Counterpoint, Crafty Admiral and I Will; and an Olympia filly.

The son of I Will is a half brother to Polly's Jet. The Counterpoint colt is the first foal of Crownlet, winner of the 1951 Churchill Downs Debutante Stakes and a division of the Lafayette.

HORSE SHOWS

Capitol

The 10th Annual Horse Show sponsored by the Idaho Equestrians, Inc., was a well run affair which, in its program, included all possible horse events of interest to the 3000 riders and enthusiastic followers of the sport, which number many thousands, in this Boise Valley area.

Within the past few years all types of riding seems to be developing here.

The Junior Horse Show events are held for two afternoons of the three day show period. This arrangement makes it possible for the Junior riders to show with their peers and this gives confidence and ring training which is invaluable for future show riders.

All the events were very well filled with two of the young riders entering the hunter and jumping classes to win first and second places.

wanis show. The combination of Suzanne Digney aboard her chestnut gelding Iritaba jumped smoothly all day to win three classes and place high in several others. Patricia Weller on her free moving Play Tour grabbed two blues, including a leg on the Rock Alder Memorial Challenge Trophy for open working hunters. This year is the first time these girls have shown over an outside course, and both are invading the senior ranks very successfully.

Jumping to his first championship of the year and a leg on the Paul Fout "Kelpie" challenge trophy was John Vass' Oklahoma with his owner aboard. Close behind was Chester Clark on his Valley Forge. This pair have just started showing and this was their first tri-color.

Don Bosco

The way that the boys of Don Bosco High School worked building the courses, acting as jump crew, etc., one would think that they expected their teachers (the priests and brothers) to go a little easier on their coming season. Under the able direction of Rev. Alfred J. Sokol, S. D. B. ("Father Al") they really contributed their share to the success of the show.

Entries were confined to juniors and two of them figured prominently in both the horsemanship and horse awards. Michael Page rode his Kid Boots, a nice moving son of Out Boots to the hunter award, after winning all his performance classes on the outside course. Reserve was another owner-rider combination, John Ballou's Artillery.

Tops in the jumper division, on his home grounds, was Allendale Riding Stables' Gift of Gold, ridden by Jimmy Wilson.

Kiwanis

As has been the case with all Long Island shows this season, the Mid-Island Kiwanis affair, held at the Thomas School of Horsemanship, was marked by an extremely large junior entry.

The regular working championship was a reversal of their previous meeting for the two horses involved. This time, Torn Pages, owned by Ralph Petersen's Mystery Stables and ridden by Althea Knickerbocker, was not to be outdone as she won every class for performance over the outside course. Placing second to her in all but one instance Harry De Leyer's Dan River with Mr. De Leyer and Jackie Bittner sharing the riding.

Mr. De Leyer also has a winner in the green with his Belle Amie as he placed the grey mare reserve to Mrs. Walton P. Davis' Top Sword, ridden by her husband, Perry. It was the first championship for the Davis gelding who has only been showing a very short time.

The jumper championship proved a repeat victory for Rice Farms' Mount Merriam. The black gelding, ridden by Frank Rice, had gained the same honor at the first Kiwanis show last year. He clinched his victory with the only clean round in the jumper stake.

Once again, Fiona Field's Glory San won a junior hunter tricolor. This time, over Cavcote Farms' Zee King, ridden by Sara Ann Cavanagh. The two young ladies also figured prominently in the horsemanship division when Sara Ann won the tricolor while Fiona qualified for the Garden by winning the U. S. E. T. class. Reserve in the horsemanship division was Michael Plumb, riding for the first time since a knee operation.

Lancaster

Adolph Mogavero, in his new role as stable manager for Fairview Farms, saddled two champions who brought home three big trophies from the Lancaster (Pa.) Spring Horse Show.

Bronze Wing, Fairview's sleek bay hunter, with Mrs. Eligio DelGuercio Jr. riding, copped the working hunter championship, and also the grand hunter championship challenge trophy by virtue of earning the most points of any hunter in the four divisions.

Then Mogavero took Ping Pong to victory in the jumper division. This pleased the crowd, for it was the first time Mogavero, a big favorite, had ever won a jumper tricolor at Lancaster, although he's won many reserves, and many hunter championships.

Probably the best jumping class of the show was the Knockdown-and-out, held in Lancaster's proverbial rain (this time not so torrential, however).

Four horses made the ten-jump course without a knockdown on the first round, and it required a double jumpoff to decide the class. Clean on the first round were Ping Pong, the eventual winner, Bedford, John Lorenz' Real McCoy, and Mr. and Mrs. Bernie Mann's Riviera Marina, with Al Fiore in the irons. On the second round the first three horses went clean again and on the final jump off, when the last three jumps were raised to five feet, six inches, Ping Pong had a spectacular clean round again, Real McCoy made eight, and Bedford seven.

Royal Oak

The Royal Oak Horse Show was held this year for the benefit of the Chicago Child Care Society. This show is primarily considered a schooling show by its committee and consequently the prizes consisted of a trophy and four ribbons in all but the stake classes. It is a credit to the exhibitors in this area that they turn out in large numbers, as many as thirty in a class, to compete where no cash awards are given and is a good indication that show people are not so money conscious as we are sometimes led to believe.

Sewickley

Perfect weather, good horses and well filled classes made the Sewickley Hunt Annual Show a great success.

Linda Jenkins on her horse Curiosity, made up for being unable to show last year. She took home three Challenge Trophies, the Richard M. Marshall for owner-rider, the Dan M. Rugg for high score junior and the Stonedale Cup for horsemanship over fences. Besides this she captured the reserve in the conformation division and the championship in the junior.

Washington

The Washington Bridle Trails Association held the first session of its annual member show at Meadowbrook Show ring in Silver Spring, Maryland. The second session will be held in the fall, and the horses with the most points from both sessions will be pinned champion and reserve in each division. There are three divisions; one for privately owned horses, one for pleasure horses, and one for stable-owned horses. The pleasure division is open to all, and it is necessary for a horse to appear in both sessions in order for his points to count towards the top awards.

Last year's privately-owned champion is back again in winning form. Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Lytle's Son Imp snapped up the privately owned hunters and the handy hunters to give him a comfortable lead over Elaine Titus' Spring Fever for the coveted Earl of Harewood Perpetual trophy awarded annually to the high scoring horse in that division.

POLO

Brandywine Polo Assn Opens 1956 Season

Bob Gallagher

Brandywine opened its 1956 summer-fall polo season Sunday, May 27th. Despite the slick condition of the field and the unofficial aspect of the game, it was played in earnest by the two teams, with Brandywine topping Meadowbrook 9-5. Ray Harrington and Billy Mayer divided the nine goal spree between them.

The first Wednesday night of arena action successfully got underway on Memorial Day, May 30th. A twin-bill was presented with Brandywine edging Long Island 11-8 in the featured second game, and Philadelphia trouncing Chadds Ford 15-8 in the lead-off game.

Scoring wise, the final chukker was the best for each team. For the visitors, Rice and Swartz each drove one in while Young contributed two. Brandywine matched them with McHugh and Harrington each adding one goal and Mayer countering with two. The only time the Brandywiners were in contention was early in the second period when Archie Young tied the score. Mayer was high scorer for the night with six tallies, while Young was high man for the losers with four goals.

Hard Saturday rains made play impossible Sunday, June 3rd on the outdoor field of The Brandywine Polo Association and forced the action to the arena.

In the first game the big man of the night was Philadelphia's Lyle Phillips who paced his club in its 15-8 victory over Chadds Ford by making eight of his team's goals. Bobby Ackerman led the Forders with four goals. This is Ackerman's first season of play with the Brandywine Polo Association. However, Bobby is not really a stranger at Brandywine having played against the localites during the past few years while wearing the colors of some of the top New York clubs.

Philadelphia 8-7 while in the second, Brandywine topped the All Stars 11-7.

In the second period, Brandywine's Harrington effected a photographer's dream shot by leaning way out of the saddle to open the scoring. Ackerman was responsible for one of the finest bits of individual work of the day when, employing mallet artistry and depending on his sure footed pony, he circled the defense for the score.

In the first game two evenly matched clubs as was evidenced by the 8-7 score fought fast and furiously for four chukkers. When the final whistle sounded Maule Farms had nosed out Philadelphia. Allred led the winners in scoring with four goals.

Polo in Hawaii

Evelyn Prescott

On June 10th the new 'Hawaii Polo Association' opened the first outdoor polo season on the Islands since 1942. This completely new organization has bought out all the assets of the Hawaii Polo and Racing Club, and that excellent high goal player, Peter Perkins now presides over the Association.

Each season since the arena version of the game was introduced here five years ago, considerable money has been lost. Last season with its terrible weather, was the worst of all and many felt the tournaments could not be continued.

It really looked like the end until a group of sports-minded Waikiki businessmen came to the fore. They believe that polo can be made a popular fixture on the annual sports calendar by giving the game more general fan appeal, — a subject which many polo clubs cannot help but take an interest in today.

To begin with, children will not only be allowed in free to all games but they will be made a part of the program. For this, the Dairymen's Association, never known to miss a good thing, is going to give valuable assistance. Starting several weeks before the June 29th doubleheader, various horses' heads will be used on the tops of their bottles. Cards will also be distributed which, when they match bottle top heads, will admit a youngster between 10 and 18 to three evenings of polo sponsored by the Dairymen's. The numbered tops will then be put in receptacles at the Stadium to be used in draws for special evening and seasonal prizes. The first prize for boys will be, very appropriately, a horse complete with three months board and riding lessons.

During the arena season, June 29th through August 17th, there will be eight Friday night twin bills and a big Shrine program, Tuesday July 3rd. All admission prices for adults will be $1., with the exception of car stalls and season boxes.

Besides this, Sunday afternoon games, with four to a side, have already started at Kapiolani Park and these games are free to everyone.

The opening arena game will see a Cornell University team in action com-

Ottawa Valley Pony Club Celebrates Birthday

Barbara May

Looking back over the past year, we realize that the Ottawa Valley Branch has made considerable progress. We will celebrate our first official birthday on June 22nd at Strathroy, Ontario, where we are sending two "C" teams to compete in the Inter-Branch Rally being held there from June 21st to 25th. A year ago, we were far removed from any such venture.

Our team members are the two McKibbin sisters, Joan and Barbara, Susan Petrie, Joanna Garland, Mardi Thompson and Sarah Jennings. Kit Sampson and Ann Fyfe are going as helpers while Susan Roberts, our hard-working Secretary, will act as Team Captain. Officials will include the writer as District Commissioner; Mrs. George Perley-Robertson, Chief Instructor; Miss Helen Chamberlin, Aylmer Road Instructor, and Miss Lynne Maybury, Instructor at Old Chelsea.

Winter instruction concentrated on theory and stable management and we can see the results of it right through the membership. Greatest possible help in this direction was a veterinary lecture given in the early winter by our two leading veterinarians, Dr. Donald M. Cherry and Dr. Eric Pallister. Dr. Pallister talked informally to the youngsters as he showed them coloured slides depicting all kinds of ailments. Dr. Cherry turned out to be a lecturer par excellence, with the aid of charcoal sketches by Joan Patriarche, one of our Associate members. Certainly any man who can keep a room full of youngsters, ten years and up, not only attentive but roaring with laughter, while he lectures on a subject which, in the hands of many excellent veterinarians, might be dry-as-dust, deserves special kudos. His description of navicular enlightened many an adult as well and has made our youngsters very knowledgeable on the subject. Dr. Pallister, too, lived up to his reputation as an exceptionally good lecturer.

In May, we had a Gymkhana, with Junior and Senior Equitation classes run off in the morning. Major-General and Mrs. C. C. Mann came from King, Ontario, to judge it for us. They have a special affection for the Ottawa Valley Branch, having organized the original one in 1946.

In early June, Mr. Peter Woolfe-Taylor, newly-elected Visiting Commissioner for the Ottawa Valley, judged our pre-Rally Dressage Test and picked Barbara McKibbin for first place.

Last week, Barbara Kemp, District Commissioner of the Montreal branch, took a Sunday off from her own Rally Team to give us last minute advice. She also graded about a dozen youngsters for us and put the Rally team straight on several points.

Shirley Thomas' International Jumping film, with Pony Club films from Australia and New Zealand, the R. C. M. P. Musical Ride and one of Culver School of Horsemanship were very much enjoyed. The Sleigh Drive and Barn Dance were other highlights.

Once the Rally's over, we'll start organizing for our second year and, if it's as progressive as the first one, we'll be happy.

This show, sponsored by the newly-formed Brandywine Valley Chapter of the P. H. A., is among the first of its kind in this area and, if its success is any measuring stick, we should see many more horsemanship shows around southeastern Pennsylvania.

The grand and senior championship awards went to one of the top junior riders in Pennsylvania. Eddie Houghton's horsemanship victory is proof that his success this spring with Averyl Craven's Petrinco is the result of the combination not only of a good (though green) horse but also of a very capable young rider. The reserve grand champion and top intermediate rider was Leslie Lockhart.

The ten-year-old and under champion went to little Bobbi Grace who's doing an excellent job taking over where older sister Patti left off in the pony division. Reserve was the indomitable Mimi Cummin, one of the "ridingest" youngsters around.

posed of Freddy Rice, Peter Baldwin and Stan Woolaway, all from Maui. Then a crack team from Midland, Texas, led by Carlton Beal will play, followed by the final series featuring a national all-star team, probably from Detroit.

Three Hawaii teams which will oppose the visitors, both at the Stadium and Kapiolani Park are, the Maui Tigers: Manduke Baldwin, Ski von Tempsky and Dwight Baldwin; the Honolulu Reds: Peter Perkins, Ed Hedemann and Tommy Campos; and a third team to represent Oahu which is being organized by the veteran local star Clarke Reynolds. Arthur Perkins is Managing Director for this year's matches and it is expected that a series will be played on the island of Maui as well.

New Zealand Polo Ponies for Great Britain

The team of New Zealand polo players at present playing in England calls itself "Aotea" (N. Z.) and wears dark blue jerseys, not the national fern leaf on black. Maori legend has it that when Kupe made his first voyage to find the fabled land of the south, that his wife was the first to sight land which she called "Aotea roa", its translation, "The long white cloud".

This Aotea team has shipped seventeen ponies to Britain, by the "Persic", a cargo ship travelling via Panama Canal, and taking just on four weeks for the trip. Half a dozen stud cattle were also aboard.

This "Operation P. P. 17" is the biggest undertaking of its kind undertaken from New Zealand, but polo ponies have before been transported to England. At the beginning of this century the Strang brothers from Oroua took a team over to England to play; and in the previous decade a number of ponies was sold to India. But apart from the fairly frequent trips across the Tasman Strait to play the Australians (with little vice versa), it is nearly fifty years since New Zealand ponies ventured so far.

In charge of the ponies were two Hawke's Bay polo players, one a senior, Jack Masters, who has represented Hawke's Bay many times, and has a fund of experience with horses. His handicap of seven will no doubt earn for him a game or two while in England. His assistant is Tom Lowry Junior, son of one of the biggest sheep-run owners in New Zealand and one of the biggest importers of Thoroughbred race horses in the Dominion. — J. W.

King Hairan, the sensation of the winter in Florida, and with a pair of seconds since coming north, found a race that didn't have Bold Ruler in it and got back into the win column.

The event was Delaware's Christiana Stakes.

King Hairan was made the choice in the five-eighths test and came through impressively. It required four furlongs for him to catch Gaudeamus, but he reached the front end in the stretch and sailed off to a 3½-length win. Jolly Jack came through to get second place over Gaudeamus. Missile was fourth.

The race was worth $11,825 to Leo Edwards, owner of King Hairan, and that makes $59,125 that Mr. Edwards and his partners, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Massey have acquired from the same source.

King Hairan is by King's Stride, out of Lady Hairan, by Hairan. W. E. Leach bred him.

L. Hunt trains for Mr. Edwards.

Jimmy Nichols was in the saddle for the Christiana.

Monmouth Park

River Divide Farm's Decathlon won the Select Stakes at Monmouth, on June 23. The six-furlong race was clocked in 1:09½, just a fifth slower than the track record. Itohe, Mr. Patrick and Pine Echo nailed down the lesser shares of the purse money.

The winner's slice was $16,150.

Decathlon (Olympia—Dog Blessed, by *Bull Dog) was scoring his seventh win of 1956 in 10 starts. His earnings for '56 are $80,950.

His stakes successes were in the Hutcheson, Hibiscus and a division of the Oceanport, before the Select.

L. Merrill is his trainer. G. R. Martin is his regular rider and was in the saddle this time.

Decathlon is three years old.

The Salvator Mile (June 20) was taken by Darby Dan Stable's Skipper Bill. He earned $14,550 and brought his season's total to $47,300.

J. Long trains for Darby Dan (J. W. Galbreath).

J. A. Regalbuto was up for the Mile.

Short Takes of Late Stakes

Delta was home first in the Myrtlewood Handicap at Arlington Park on June 18. The Primer Stakes (June 20) went to Greek Game. Sea O Erin took the Laurance Armour Memorial Handicap, June 23.

The favored Midafternoon earned $38,200 for Mrs. E. E. Roberts by taking the Massachusetts Handicap on June 20. Find, Mielieux and Wise Margin finished second, third and fourth respectively.

Beauguerre brought his unbeaten streak to four straight by taking the Bay State Kindergarten Stakes, June 23. The two-year-old son of Mr. Busher—Model Beauty, by *Blenheim II, put $7,050 to the account of the Cataula Farm stable by his last victory. J. Dupuy trains him and Paul Bohenko was up for the stakes win.

Swaps knocked over another world record when he raced 1½ miles in 1:39 flat to take the Inglewood Handicap at Hollywood on June 23. He carried 130 pounds including Willie Shoemaker. Mister Gus finished second and Bobby Brocato, third.

Darling Adele clicked in the Cinderella Stakes (Hollywood, June 20).

Candy Dish won the Hollywood Oaks, June 21.

Khumbaba, and they raced thus for about a mile and a half. Ring O'Roses was last until the third fence from home. Saving ground with no interference, he moved up to race with the others. He and his stablemate Corkage jumped the last together where he pulled away from the game Corkage. Basilia made a run going into the next to last fence, but hung, finishing third with Khumbaba fourth. Roguet was no threat at the last jump.

the current crop of two-year olds whose training has been much delayed by an abnormally dry spring which caused the going on our training grounds to be very firm.

The Oaks result was gloomier than the Derby with French fillies filling four of the first five places but Madame Volterra's Sicarelle, the winner, is a pretty smart sort. She probably takes on Lavanadin, Monteval, and the French Derby winner Philius II in the Grand Prix de Paris on Sunday, June 24th.

Yours very sincerely,

Be Fleet's First

Honey Ann, recent winner at Belmont Park, is the first victor sired by Andrew J. Crevolin's $162,000 earner Be Fleet, who stands at the Nuckolls Brothers' Hurstland Farm, Midway.

Purchased for $13,500 from E. D. Axton as a yearling at Keeneland, the stallion by Count Fleet from the classy Bala Ormont took the San Juan Capistrano, San Francisco County, Argonaut and San Pasqual Handicaps.

Safety Cap

Patrons of Agua Caliente recently saw the new streamlined jockey safety caps which gained unanimous approval. Redesigned because of protests that they too strongly resembled motorcycle policemen's helmets, the new caps are shaped to fit the contour of the head; and jockey caps of silk fit snugly over them, giving a nice appearance but with the added insurance against head injuries. Many racing commissions have shown interest in the caps; wearing them may soon be mandatory at other tracks than Caliente.

FLORIDA HORSESHOW OFFICERS

Hunter and Jumper enthusiasts were pleased at the 1956 election of The Florida Horseshow Association when Mrs. Gregory S. McIntosh, Col. Welton M. Modisette, and Mr. Jim Mitchell were elected as directors of the board. Other officers are: Mr. Herbert L. Stevens, president; Mr. H. Hammond, vice-president; Mr. Robert Cohen, secretary, Mr. Phillip Head, treasurer; Directors: Mr. E. H. Padgett, and Mr. J. T. Harwood. President Stevens has announced that the 1957 four day Miami charity horse show will be held in the Dinner Key Auditorium and that full class B divisions for conformation, green hunters, and open jumpers will be offered.—J. A.

UNDECLARED DIVIDEND

Harry and Terry Whittaker of South Miami are the newest horsemen to add to the list of people who have owned hunting mares that have unexpectedly produced a foal in mid-show season! Purchasing a bay half-bred unmarried mare named Rubyat last summer, the Whittakers trained her for green classes and were not in the least bit suspicious when she became fatter by the months. Rubyat put in a fine round at the South Miami Spring Show and three weeks later dropped a spanking chestnut filly to the amazement of her owners, who now have two for the price of one!—J. A.

BACK FROM FLORIDA

Virginia horseman, Bill Overdorf of Staunton, has returned from his winter in Florida to take over showing his string of open horses. While in the Sunshine State, Bill made many friends among the hunter folk, and showed some horses from the stables of Hobby Horse Farm.—J. A.

KULZER TO MIDDLEBURG

Mr. J. P. Kulzer has moved the horse showing activities of his Ormond Biltmore Stables, Ormond Beach, Fla. to Middleburg for the summer. He has leased a farm there and will show on the eastern circuit. Daughter Sussy will be seen on her Florida green champion Biltmore's Pride (by Irish Luck) and the consistent open horses, Top Miss, Big Bounce, and Driftwood. Vermonter, Woody Dubois is the trainer and will be in the irons on the Sunshine State Open winner, Moon Spring.—J. A.

PAT DIXON RECOVERING

Pat Dixon of Millarden Farms suffered a concussion and a dislocated shoulder when he and a green horse went down together on June 14. At the Lancaster General Hospital, Mr. Dixon is improving steadily and happily recognizes such visitors as Joe Green and Betty and Bill Loeffler.

QUALIFIED

Joannah Hall recently became the first junior in southeastern Pennsylvania to qualify for the AHSA and ASPCA classes at the Garden this fall. Jo won her medals at Sugartown, Lancaster, and Huntington Valley, and became eligible for the Maclay after her victory at Allentown this past weekend.—Fencepost

GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY

The South Shore Country Club, Chicago, Ill., celebrating their Golden Anniversary, added an extra touch to their horse show, by presenting the stake class winners with blankets of yellow roses. One going to the winner of the Hunter's Stake, Poppy, owned by George W. Jayne, and ridden by Marion Jayne; the other blanket to the winner of the Jumper's Stake, Bwanna, owned by, Dr. Earl Milard, and ridden by Sandra Friedlander.—M. S.

FAST BREAK!

The Fifth Annual Maryland Pony Breeders Show held at the Maryland State Fair Grounds, Timonium, Maryland on June 17th was distinguished by an added class for yearling ponies to be driven in long lines by a junior member which proved hilarious. The winner was Martha Zeevold, driving Lee Naylor's black crossbred and the talk around the ring was that the pony had been broken to drive by Rigan McKinney just an hour before entering the ring! —B. M.

PONY CLUB MOUNTS FOR HORSE GUARDS

All during the past winter the Horse Guards of the Governor-General of Canada have been riding the horses of the Annandale School regularly used by the Eglinton Branch of the Canadian Pony Club. On Saturday, June 2nd, six of these horses took part in the Trooping of the Colour Ceremony at the Grounds of the Canadian Exhibition near Toronto. On June 6th the same six horses were used as part of the mounted escort for the Governor-General at the new Woodbine Race Track where he witnessed the running of the Queen's Plate.

STEINKRAUS FALL

Speaking of the fall which William Steinkraus sustained at the moment when the Olympic teams of all Nations were being presented to the King of Sweden and the Queen of England, a correspondent explains that is some inexplicable way the bit caught in the Martingale, thus causing the horse to run backwards. Of this incident he says, "Billy's fall was wonderful, and we have had many expressions of wonder at his grace." Whitney Stone is reputed to have said "He got off with the Queen".

U. S. E. T. STOCKHOLM CLUB

Some months before the Olympic Games at Stockholm, Ernst Mahler and Charlie Sweatt, both members of the Board of Directors of the United States Equestrian Team, conceived the idea of taking over the American Club in Stockholm which is situated on the fifth floor of the Grand Hotel. Unfortunately Mr. Sweatt had a fall from a horse breaking his thigh several weeks ago at Tryon, North Carolina, and so was not able to see personally how the idea worked out. Mr. Mahler was on hand, however, to preside daily over this gathering place for Americans and what some of them called "the best smorgasbord lunch I have ever seen".

ARUNDEL APPOINTMENT

The appointment of Arthur W. (Nicky) Arundel to the CBS News and Public Affairs staff in Washington was announced today by Ted Koop, Director of CBS Washington News and Public Affairs.

Arundel, a Harvard graduate and Marine Corps Korean combat veteran, previously was with the Arabian American Oil Company, the U. N. Secretariat and the staff of Sen. Robertson (D., Va.). He is a native of Warrenton, Va.

AMATEUR RIDERS

Amateur Rider's Certificates were recently granted by the National Steeplechase and Hunt Association to William K. Cunningham, 3rd., Henry Stokes Lott and Phillip Vanderbilt Schneider.

OLYMPIC VISITORS

Passengers on the same plane flying to Stockholm for the Olympic Games were Andrew Montgomery, Sec. of the United States Equestrian Team; Dr. O'Dea, Consulting Veterinarian of the Team and Mrs. O'Dea; and Mrs. Pat Lawrence of Charlotte, North Carolina, who it's reported did a wonderful job helping team members, riders, grooms and most of the American visitors to find their way about and to get settled.

HYPERION PORTRAIT

At the current display at the Royal Academy of over three hundred paintings by Sir Alfred Munnings, is a study of Lord Derby's great stallion Hyperion made for the painting exhibited at the Royal Academy in 1938. Sir Alfred describes it as being "in my view, my one and only good painting of a horse". Most of our readers will certainly believe that Sir Alfred takes an entirely too narrow view of his own accomplishments.

OLYMPIC 3-DAY OFFICIALS

On the day of the cross country phase of the Olympic 3-Day event at Stockholm, no less than 756 people were stationed as officials at various points on the course.

U. S. 3-DAY HORSES

According to a letter recently received from Stockholm, the United States Equestrian Team was the only one there which had all its six horses sound and ready when the event opened.

WHITE BUGGY

Exhibitors at the 10th annual Capitol Horse Show, sponsored by the Idaho Equestrians, Inc., gave a garden luncheon at the Henry C. Fleenor home. Henry acted as Ring Steward during the show. So that all out of town visitors could land in the right spot an old fashioned buggy filled with flowers, stood at the entrance. This is the second year the buggy, which incidentally is painted white, has been used as a "guiding light" and probably will become a tradition in the Capitol Horse world. — D. T.

LLEWELLYN ON STEINKRAUS

In the June 2nd issue of Horse and Hound, Col. H. M. Llewellyn who made such a great record on Fox Hunter, reviews the prospects of the British team at Stockholm and its competitors. In considering Britain's opponents he says, "The United States has an exceptionally fine rider in William Steinkraus whose smooth riding reminds one of the d'Inzeos. Steinkraus on Night Owl could easily win the individual Gold Medal. Too bad his prediction did not come true.

FROM JUMPERS TO RACING

Jim and Jack Mitchell, owners of Pasco Ranch in Elfers, Fla. and long time exhibitors of hunters, jumpers, and stock horses have a new sideline in the racing business. They have acquired two new stallions, seven broodmares and will soon be Florida breeders. Their racing stock, including their good winners Tizza and Leche (who was first campaigned in hunter hack classes) are now campaigning in New England. The Mitchells will still find time to show their good open jumper Sunfire on the Texas Circuit. — J. A.

FLORIDA HUNTER TO VIRGINIA

Hobby Horse Farm of South Miami has sold their nice green gelding Butter-scotch to Mrs. Leigh Graham Bishop of Belmont Farm in Middleburg. Mrs. Bishop showed this skewbald son of the Thoroughbred sire, Sir Marlboro at Millwood and the Upperville Colt Show, and plans to ship him to Long Island for the late summer months while her husband is racing at Saratoga. She will return in the fall to her home in Winston Salem, N. C. and hunt with the Moore County Hounds. The Bishops stand the good young sire War Dauber at their farm in Middleburg. — J. A.

LOFTY PEAK SETS RECORD

Christopher M. Greer's Loftly Peak (by Alquest—Highformation, by Higher) put on a smashing performance and tucked in a track record in the fifth race at Belmont Park on June 9. In the mile and three furlongs New Rochelle Handicap Loftly Peak with 119 pounds and Earl Phelps got the distance in 2:17 thereby breaking the record established previously by Lough Ree.

The Chronicle Cover

Rey El Santa Anita was a bay horse foaled 1891 by *Cheviot, out of Alaho. He was bred, owned and raced by E. J. "Lucky" Baldwin. Alaho (Grinstead—Experiment, by Monarchist) was also bred by Baldwin.

The horse gained fame under the Baldwin silks as the fourth of the Baldwin horses to win the American Derby, the race which in those days was the counterpart in national interest of the Kentucky Derby today. First came Volante (1885); then Silver Cloud (1886); then Emperor of Norfolk (1888); and lastly Rey El Santa Anita (1894).

These four great horses found their final resting place in a heart-shaped grove of palms commanding the entrance to the old Baldwin stables. There the master erected a huge maltese cross of concrete in their memory. Later this cross was moved to the Santa Anita gardens and a bronze plaque commemorating the deeds of the horses placed in front of it.

The racing record of Rey El Santa Anita was as follows: At 3 he won the American Derby (Chicago), Cincinnati Hotel Handicap, Sheridan Stakes; was second in Pacific Union Handicap, and third in the Lawrence Realization and Travers Stakes. At 4 he won the Twin City Handicap and was second in the Montgomery Handicap, and Municipal Handicap.

Liamson with their Lila-Gord stable. Lil shows the veteran Hadacol and Gordon piloted his Hudson Bay to many a top round on the circuit. Greatest victory for the Williamsons was winning the treasured Cuban Cup against twelve other teams at the Tropical Park Show. At Waverly, Paul Ratliff rode Hudson Bay to the jumper title, and was so pleased with the bold performer that he purchased him after a five foot blue at the Largo Fair. After the show season, the Lila-Gord stables hurried home to Brandon for the annual Manitoba Winter Fair where two retirement ceremonies were held for their great open champion, Bouncing Buster. This horse, 26 years young, is known as one of the greatest jumping horses that Western Canada has ever produced. — J. A.

PALM BEACH

As a final sporting weekend before heading north to their Blind Brook Polo Club at Purchase, N. Y., Major and Mrs. F. C. Collins entertained Mr. and Mrs. Jules "Tiger" Romfh, Mr. and Mrs. Don B. Arnold, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert L. Stevens, and Col. Gerald Graham, famed equitation instructor from Statesboro, Ga. with a luncheon, informal drag hunt and dinner at the Palm Beach Polo and Hunt Club. Florida horse people eagerly await the fall return of the Collins when drag hunting, polo, and showing will resume in full force in the Palm Beach and South Florida areas. The Collins have recently purchased 1500 acres to add to the land that is now used for hunting. — J. A.
